Community Teacher Testimonial

I am Divya Bhaidkar, a community teacher in Mahim balwadi, working for 31 years. Earlier, we used to fill up registers, documents, sheets for Classroom Assessment, attendance, etc., which was a tiresome job. But now, due to Koita App, it has become more accessible with one click. It has emerged as an exciting app that helps to gather and maintain all information under one umbrella. In my opinion, Koita App makes work more accessible and saves paper and time. Earlier, while we used to tour for filling the information occasionally, we used to misplace the sheets, and in the rainy season, the sheet used to get wet and wrinkled. But now, due to the Koita app, we can access it anytime. If we leave out any information or we want access to any information, we can check the records with a few clicks of buttons. With changing times, technology is our future. There is no better way than to incorporate Koita App into our classrooms which will play a significant role in assisting teachers like us. I learned to use the Koita App, which I would never have thought of. I thank the Koita Foundation and Vipla foundation for creating such a simple tool.

Release of Case Study Booklet

Trafficking for commercial sexual exploitation (CSE) is one of the gravest forms of modern slavery. The complex issue is often dealt with an 'isolationist approach' despite the need for multi-pronged, collective, and concerted action of stakeholders in order to demonstrate a visible dent and create deterrence. With the support of Global Fund to End Modern Slavery (GFEMS), Vipla Foundation piloted this strategy in its work towards addressing CSE through interventions aimed at strengthening prosecution processes and building behaviours that demonstrate empathy towards victims of CSE. The strategy helped the organization to facilitate legal processes in a way that the victims are informed, remain engaged, and participate in the justice processes without fear, anxiety, or intimidation while building sustainability through convergence and continued coordination of stakeholders. We celebrated the success of the model through the publication of a case stories booklet which documented the learnings of the two yearlong project from geographies in the state of Maharashtra like Kolhapur, Solapur, Aurangabad, Ahmednagar, and Nashik. This booklet is a testimony to the spirit of convergence where every stakeholder recognized their interdependent roles and coordinated within the district for the larger cause of addressing CSE and acknowledges the efforts of each and every institution and individual and most importantly the victims of CSE who gathered the courage to claim their rights and bring the perpetrators to justice.

CHALAANG in Partnership With Rotary Club Of Bombay

Vipla Foundation in partnership with the Rotary Club of Bombay started interventions with Vaidu community settlements in Mumbai and Mumbai suburbs to provide long-term sustainable solutions to break the cycle of intergenerational poverty, exploitation and marginalisation for generations. This intervention included engagement with children, adolescents and women.

Screening of Jayeshbhai Jordar By Book My Show

Book My Show - under their initiative Book A Smile sponsored a movie screening for 200 young women from Mumbai and Pune. This was a special event on multiple accounts since it was the first time that most of these girls got an opportunity to visit a theatre to watch a movie and the movie highlights the gender-based discriminations that women face even before they are born and the role of men and the community in preventing the same.

Delhi Chapter

A significant highlight of Vipla Foundation - Delhi during the 1st quarter was Balwadi and Patang Remedial Programs were initiated with a strength of 125 in each program.

01

Summer Activities: Students of the Patang Remedial Program participated in Art and Taekwondo classes conducted by the volunteers in June.

02

TLM Workshop for Balwadi Teacher: Balwadi teachers have participated in one online workshop on 13th June 2022. The teachers made various theme-based Teaching Learning materials during the workshop.

03

Mid-day Meal Distribution: Children's academic performance depends on adequate nutrition. To maintain the children's nutritional intake, Vipla Foundation supported these children with dry grocery rations. In collaboration with Response net and individual supporters, dry ration was distributed monthly. This includes cereals, pulses, oil, soybean, etc., provided to each child.

Success Story

Nandini dropped out from 4th grade, and her brother Ariyan also dropped out in 3rd grade; both live in Khizrabad Village. Nandini's father works as a housekeeping staff in a private office, and the mother is a housewife. Both Nandini and Ariyan studied in a private school. During the Covid pandemic in 2020, the family couldn't pay the school fee for the children, so the school authority refused to continue their education there. Due to prolonged lockdown, Nandini and Ariyan did not get a chance to enrol their name in government schools. They have lost their studies for two years. Their parents came to our centre to enrol them in the Patang program. Nandini and Ariyan regularly attended the Patang class, and the teacher helped them get admission to a regular school through the online admission portal created for such students. Currently, Nandini has gained access to 6th Standard in SKV Jogabai, and Ariyan has got admission to 4th Grade at SDMC primary school at Khizrabad. Both of them happily attend their schools along with the Patang programs.

From CEO's Desk

Exploring, experimenting, and piloting new ideas to either try out new terrains or mitigate identified problems is something that any dynamic organization would do. Vipla Foundation, has always strived to build knowledge that would enrich the organization and contribute to the development field's larger landscape.

The effort is to share our experiences and lessons to get feedback from the readers. As we progress into the second quarter of the new financial year, Vipla is in active discussion to start its Early Childhood Education, Remedial Education, and Children + Women Empowerment Programs in the new geographies. The Vipla team has worked hard to ensure that the new programs would be launched on a sound footing and the existing programmes continued with necessary rigour. Our future newsletters will bring glimpses of those programs and we would love to get your feedback and suggestions.

Let's hope to have a great monsoon that will bring greenery and a smile to the face of all those with whom we work.

- Mr. Pramod Nigudkar, CEO Vipla Foundation
